Creating Successful Citizens Striving to make a Difference

– District Newsletter –

CAMPBELL-SAVONA
PANTHERS

July/August 2016

Superintendent's note

The summer edition of our district newsletter is always a time to celebrate the many accomplishments of our students and staff. In addition, I am pleased to also share with our community a very special District celebration.

U.S. News and World Report recently released its annual rankings of high schools across the country and the Campbell-Savona Junior/Senior High School was ranked a bronze level high school, one of only six high schools in the GST BOCES to be so honored. Being recognized as a bronze level high school ranks the C-S Jr./Sr. High School in the top 30 percent of all high schools in the U.S.

C-S was recognized for this honor because we met or exceeded the following three criteria:

- Our students performed statistically better than expected for students in New York State.
- Our disadvantaged students outperformed other disadvantaged students in the state.

- Our graduation rate met the 68 percent or better criteria; our rate was substantially better. On the most recent New York State School Report Card, C-S achieved a 94 percent graduation rate.

This honor was achieved as a result of a shared vision of rigor and relevance in the classroom. Our teachers strived to develop within their students the 21st century skills needed to be successful in school and in the wider world after graduation. It is also the result of the wonderful partnerships we have developed with our parents and the larger C-S community.

On behalf of the Board of Education and the staff, I want to thank our parents for working together with us to ensure their children put a high priority on school work, so

Coffed receives teaching award

C-S science teacher Jordan Coffed was recently awarded the Empire State Excellence in Teaching Award. This award is given to teachers who are “Ambassadors to the Future of Education” and exemplify the dedication, mission, skill, expertise and talent of outstanding teachers. These teachers specifically inspire and motivate all students day in and day out, making learning exciting while holding them to high expectations. Honorees prepare their students for a lifelong journey of learning and make a significant difference in students’ lives.

The award is given to PreK-12 teachers from across New York State following a nomination and subsequent application process. Mr. Coffed was anonymously nominated for the award. He will serve as an ambassador of the teaching profession, representative of the mission and in-depth work of teachers across the state. He will be provided the opportunity to share insights on professional learning and also advise on education with regional development leaders, university leaders in teacher education and policy makers. The awarded monies will be used to fund these projects.

Superintendent Kathy Hagenbuch congratulates Jordan Coffed.

Badding selected for Students Inside Albany

Margaret Badding, a junior at Campbell-Savona Jr./Sr. High School, was recently selected by the Steuben County Chapter of the League of Women Voters to represent our area at the Students Inside Albany Conference. The goals of the conference are to promote an increased understanding of the New York State legislative process through a legislative shadowing experience and to increase students’ awareness of their responsibility in representative government. Margaret was one of many high school students from across the state who had an opportunity to experience New York state government and the legislative process by shadowing our local state representatives.

Elementary hosts annual mini-relay BASE A-3 wraps up busy year

What can be more fun than a day filled with activities and Dr. Seuss? On June 16, students at the Campbell-Savona Elementary School once again did their part toward raising money for the American Cancer Society. This enough to raise the most money – $110 – and was rewarded with a pie in the face during relay events. Activities during relay included dancing, yoga, Zumba, an obstacle course, face painting and many more. Mr. Kevin Rosko and year’s theme was Dr. Seuss; each grade level made a banner for the silent walk with a Dr. Seuss quote that was centered on finding a cure for cancer.

Mrs. Fishbaugh, who is “O-fish-ally” stronger than cancer, spoke to the students about finding their gift and sharing it with the world.

Prior to relay day, students raised funds by asking teachers to pay to wear pink, collecting dimes, selling candy grams and collecting donations for Pie-In-The-Face buckets. Mr. Koehler was “lucky” the CSB Wrestlers donated a check for $1,000. Each year, the wrestlers hold a “Takedown Cancer” night and donate the proceeds to the American Cancer Society. Mrs. Fishbaugh, who was deemed to be “O-fish-ally” stronger than cancer, spoke to the students about finding their gift and sharing it with the world.

Altogether, this community raised $2,347.88 this year. During the last several years, our mini-relay has raised and donated $13,629.49 to our Hike 4 Mike Relay team and the American Cancer Society! All community members should be very proud of that. The C-S Mini-Relay for Life Committee thanks everyone for their support.

BASE A-3 wraps up busy year

BASE A-3 students participated in an arts program at Alfred University.

The A-3 afterschool program finished another successful year with more than 100 participants. Highlights of the year included a trip to Alfred University for an acoustics program, the Alfred University Stem Challenge and a trip to the planetarium at Corning Community College. We also had visiting guests from the Alfred State Culinary Arts Program and the Wildlife Defenders. We capped off the year with a trip to Syracuse, NY to the WonderWorks Museum. WonderWorks is a hands-on interactive science museum with more than 100 exhibits.

Academic awards recognize achievements

Students in grades 7-12 were recognized for academic achievement during the annual Academic Awards Night in June.

Seventh- and eighth-graders who received honor roll status for the first three marking periods receive the Honors designation.

Students in grades 9-12 who make either honor roll or high honor roll status for the first three marking periods are recognized each year accordingly: first year winners receive a lamp of knowledge pin, second year winners receive a medallion, third year winners receive an engraved plaque and fourth year winners receive a silver bowl.

Math and Science Night recap

A great time was had by all who participated in this year's Math and Science Night. Students had their five minutes of fame on WENY News, got to investigate how hot the temperature needs to be for a lantern to rise, took aim at Nerf Gun math, created their own bouncy balls, were shocked by sugar overload, experienced the warmth of blubber gloves, decided to save or spend and took part in numerous other investigations and hands-on experiences.

that each reaches his or her highest potential. I also want to thank the broader community for your continued support of the District, the most recent example being the approval of the 2016-17 District budget with a 75 percent super majority.

We will continue to use our vision as our “guiding light” and focus on our mission of establishing a community centered environment that engages and empowers all students and staff to reach their highest potential.

Thank you to our parents and our community for helping us to achieve that mission. Have a great summer!

Sixth grade play stresses kindness

With the support, love and guidance of Mrs. Machuga, sixth graders wrapped up their school year with an amazing show that gave the audience the point-of-view of the Big Bad Wolf and Little Red Riding Hood. The play demonstrated the importance of kindness and that there are always two sides to every story.
